

To Whom It May Concern,

I am pleased to recommend Chris for their exceptional design work on our recent magazine advertisements and exhibition show graphics. Her creativity and attention to detail helped bring our vision to life with stunning visuals that captured attention and conveyed our message effectively.

The exhibition graphics, in particular, stood out, drawing significant interest and enhancing our brand's presence and relaunch. Throughout the process, Chris was professional, responsive, and a easy to work with, delivering high-quality results on time.

I highly recommend her work and am confident they will excel in any creative project they work on.

Andrew Barnett, Managing Director,
Barnbrook Systems